WHO ARE WE?

Oxfam India works primarily through grassroots organisations to bring deep-rooted sustainable changes in people's lives. They work for the poorest and the socially excluded communities by mobilizing them to campaign for greater economic and social reforms.

Oxfam India's vision is to help create an equal, just and sustainable society by empowering the underprivileged. Oxfam India believes in the 'Right to Life with Dignity for All'. This is fulfilled by engaging empowered citizens to become active and supportive partners, advocating an effective and accountable State and making markets work for the underprivileged.

Young Leaders for Active Citizenship (YLAC) aims to increase the participation of young people in the democratic process and build their capacity to lead change.

YLAC's interventions are designed to equip citizens with a better understanding of the society they live in and the challenges that it confronts. The aim is to help young people broaden their perspective, think critically about their socio-political construct, tap their leadership potential and acquire skills to create long lasting impact.

THE IDEA

VISION

By raising consciousness about the inequalities that exist in society, the Equality Clubs hope to develop students into thinking adults who can look at the world objectively and with empathy.

MISSION

Our aim is to empower the next generation with skills and capacity to re-write societal norms and craft an egalitarian future.

EQUALITY CLUBS | RAISING CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

The Equality Clubs will enable students by:

Equipping them with the skills to take on social leadership

Helping them build empathy and appreciation of their own privilege

Familiarizing them with the different inequalities that exist in society

Inspiring them to create impact

EQUALITY CLUBS | THEORY OF CHANGE

“If we create spaces where rich discussions around inequality can be ignited through experiential lessons and facilitated interactions, then emotions of empathy and justice will be evoked in students who will be inspired to take action against the inequalities that exist in society.”

SAMPLE ACTIVITY | BUILDING GENDER IDENTITY THROUGH THE MEDIA

Activity III: Building Gender Identity through the Media

Objectives	The presence of gender stereotypes is a well-known phenomenon across society. In this section, students focus on understanding the inherent biases in media that reinforce gender stereotypes.
Recommended time	45 mins
Materials required	Projector
Methodology	This activity is a review and respond session that involves watching videos
Main message	Media and its portrayal of gender stereotypes largely shapes our perception

Notes to the facilitator

In this session, we'll use clips from both Hollywood and Bollywood to showcase stereotypes that are often perpetuated through media and the impact they have on our society. Here is a short TEDx video that you can watch to gain more context; this video is only meant for the facilitator and need not be screened for students. [Bollywood's impact on the patriarchal society in India: TEDx Talk]

Talking points for the facilitator

- Do you like watching TV series and movies? Which ones in particular? [Take a couple of responses]
- For this session, we'll watch a couple of short clips from our favourite movies (in fact, we have put in an ad too!) and then discuss our impressions.
- I am going to play the clips one after the other. I want you to look at them more critically than what you usually do, especially from a gender perspective. Just jot down your impressions on a page or a notebook. We'll discuss after. [Play any 4 clips from the options below, basis time and preference. Discuss the impressions from each clip before moving on to the next; prompt students to think critically about the way gender roles and identities are depicted in these clips, especially physical appearance, occupation, tone, etc.]

Title: Mean Girls (5/10) - Sweatpants on Monday

Potential issues (to add to the points raised by students, if needed):

- Firstly, the title of the movie seems to build on the stereotype that girls can be mean and competitive, especially with respect to looks.
- The scene seems to suggest that girls are often very conscious of their looks; dressing poorly (in sweatpants, for instance) or gaining weight is extremely problematic.
- It also hints at girls, especially the pretty blonde ones, being perceived as dumb - highlighted when Regina asks if butter is a carbohydrate.

Title: Deepika Padukone wears Indian for her mother-in-law
Link: Youtube
Language: Hindi and English (mixed usage)
Source: Cocktail (Bollywood)
Length: 1:26 minutes

Title: Deepika Padukone wears Indian for her mother-in-law

Potential issues (to add to the points raised by students, if needed):

- The need for the woman to change her appearance to be 'liked' by the potential mother-in-law; no such pressure on the man (Saif is wearing jeans and T-shirts).
- The idea that if a woman dresses in an Indian attire, she is more 'sanskari' (morally upright) and 'marriage material'.

Gender Discrimination in

Sports

Sports play an important role in moulding one's development both physically and mentally. It helps in strengthening the immune system, maintaining physical coordination, enhancing body strength and improving mental power. It contributes significantly in boosting one's confidence. There are a lot of benefits of playing. It helps in reducing blood pressure, manages your weight, improves muscle strength, reduces stress, improves sleep quality, strengthens immune system and many more.

These benefits apply uniformly to both genders. So it is imperative for women to equally participate in Sports like men. Taking into consideration the benefits of sports, many countries have already made it mandatory for the citizens to play. Men and Women have different role and expectations in sports world.
